

AMY

As the first point of contact here at Akoranga Preschool I believe it is of utmost importance to build good relationships with our families and children

Meaningful relationships are key to us here and I believe Communication is vital in these relationships.

It is my pleasure to greet every family and visitor to our centre with a positive and friendly welcome.

I am enjoying getting to know all our families and children here and I will always do my best to keep all communication lines open between myself and management here at Akoranga.

Our learning partnerships between kaiako/teachers, parents, and whānau/families play a key role in our children's learning.

Most of all we believe in the power and wonder of the child, our children.
