I believe that each child is an individual and as an educator I want to give all children the time, respect, space, resources, and environment they need to develop their own strengths, interests, skills, abilities, and knowledge during their learning journey. I will do this by providing them with a non-intrusive teaching approach and environment.

I believe as an educator my main focus and passion is creating positive relationships with whanau and attachments with children to do what is best for the well-being and belonging while they spend time at preschool and in my care.

“Teaching and education are not one size fits all.” As an educator this quote is very important to me and because of this I believe I am a very diverse teacher, I want to be able to have the knowledge and skills to support children from all backgrounds. I will continue my studies to make sure I can continue this.

I will continue to be my approachable, happy, caring, respectful, honest, and reliable self and this will also be visible throughout my teaching approach.
